

Being the Servant of God is My Last Work

Mei Trifena (written when studying in Lempin-El)

To be the servant of God is not easy. I must be brave to pay the price for the Lord first has paid expensive price to buy me, that is to say with His own blood. The price I must pay cannot be compared with His sacrifice. I had to lose my scholarship in University of Lampung because of joining bible school in Lempin-El Kristus Ajaib. From the logical point of view, I become a fool but giving my life to God is a beautiful thing for me.

In following education in Lempin-El, my life changes little by little. In the past I often lied and was egoistic but now I do not easily commit sin. It is all because of the work of shepherding word and the help of Holy Spirit. I can follow the education in Lempin-El and I can understand about the meaning and the goal of my life. Holy Spirit helps me to decide that being the servant of God is my last work. I will hold the shepherding word because it is true and I will accept it to become experience in my life.
